Temujin - 1000 Tears

<http://www.myspace.com/temujin1>

From time to time I get a CD from a band that, well isn't super heavy or doesn't fit neatly into the standard categories of metal styles. Like Evanescence, I mean they have metal kinda parts, but generally are just considered music. Or Nightwish, kinda heavy, great vocals, beautiful music, but not your normal "All out heavy metal band".

Well, out of Melbourne, Australia comes Temujin with Kelly (vocals and keyboards) and Karl (guitars, bass, and drums). I think this band is more akin to Nightwish, maybe a little lighter, maybe in parts heavier, but still giving that same great feeling... that one of being in a fairy tale. "1000 Tears" is that kinda CD that grabs you, not cause is heavy, but because the music is good and the vocals are... comforting. This is atmospheric music, the kind that takes you away to some far off land, just you and the music. My favorite songs are: "Throwing Stones", "Haunted", "Sheltered" and "All of You".

Now comes word they just signed a small indy deal with Renaissance Records and possibly doing a United States tour. The future looks very bright for this talented duo. Soon to be hitting a town near you. If you get a chance go catch a show. I know I will... hey get me on the guest list!!!
